SNYDER FIELD

SNYDER FIELD

In 1996, with the construction of Gibbs Stadium for the football team, Snyder Field underwent a near-complete renovation. Included in the changes were a widening of the field to make it one of the top soccer-specific stadiums in the southeast.

The Wofford men's and women's teams have made Snyder Field home since the 1997 season. Located between the Richardson Building, the Campus Life Building and Russell C. King Field, Snyder Field is centrally located on campus.

The Wofford men's soccer team previously played on Snyder Field until the 1989 season, when they moved to the Terrier Soccer Complex.

The facility is named for former Wofford president Henry Nelson Snyder (1902-1942) and can seat 2,250 in bleachers. Additional standing-room areas are located around the perimeter of the facility.

THIS IS WOFFORD

Wofford College, established in 1854, is an independent liberal arts college located in Spartanburg, S.C. It offers bachelor's degrees in 26 major fields of study, and is well known for its programs leading to graduate and professional studies. Affiliated with the United Methodist Church, the college is committed to quintessential undergraduate education within the context of values-based inquiry.

Wofford College consistently finds itself as a benchmark for what higher education should be now and in the future, and how students can find an exciting and fulfilling undergraduate experience that also is a good value both in financial investment and in value-added by that educational experience.

The college has scored high on the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE), which measures the level of academic challenge, active and collaborative learning, student-faculty interaction, enriching educational experiences, and a supportive campus environment.

Wofford can be found in numerous college guides that provide perspectives from a variety of sources. Among those are U.S. News & World Report's "America's Best Colleges," The Princeton Review's "Best 376 Colleges," The Fiske Guide to Colleges, The (Yale) Insider's Guide, and Peterson's Colleges for Top Students.

Forbes.com ranked Wofford as one of "America's Best Colleges" in 2011, the highest rated institution in South Carolina. In its November 2010 issue, Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine ranked Wofford among the nation's best private college values, at number 31.

Wofford consistently lands on "best value" lists in various other national college guides and publications. In U.S. News & World Report's 2010 "America's Best Colleges," Wofford was included in "Great Schools, Great Prices," a listing of 31 liberal arts colleges.

Wofford ranks ninth in the country in the percentage of undergraduates receiving credit for studying abroad, according to Open Doors 2010, a report published by the Institute of International Education (IIE).

The Village, Wofford's apartment-style housing for its senior students, has earned a number of national recognitions. The Michael S. Brown Village Center opened in the fall of 2011 with loft-style apartments along with a grand galleria, deli restaurant and market. It is anchored by the Mungo Center for Professional Excellence.

Wofford was named to the President's Higher Education Community Service for 2010, presented by the Corporation for National and Community Service, an independent federal agency tasked with fostering an ethic of volunteerism and service in America. Wofford also was included in the 2009 Guide to Service-Learning Colleges & Universities, highlighting the college's programs to encourage student engagement.

Wofford's entire 175-acre campus is a national arboretum, which was named the Roger Milliken Arboretum at Wofford College in honor of the late longtime trustee and benefactor. More than 5,000 trees have been planted on the Wofford campus since 1992.

ACADEMICS

Wofford offers distinctive learning opportunities that set it apart from other liberal arts colleges. They provide students with meaningful study-abroad experiences, exciting and socially useful service opportunities, career-related and experiential learning possibilities, interaction with great academicians from across the world, and exposure to renowned authors, artists, and business and professional leaders. ## THE CAROLINA PANTHERS

Media members that visit Wofford during the five-week camp include ESPN, Fox Sports Net, USA Today and Sports Illustrated. Local print and television media from markets including Columbia, Charlotte, Raleigh/Durham/Chapel Hill, Asheville and Greensboro/Winston-Salem are on campus on a daily basis.

According to SI.com's Tim Layden, "as I like to think of it: Training Camp Heaven. Wofford is 70 miles west of Charlotte on I-85, and presents all the reasons why there is something special about taking the team on the road for camp. Three pristine, Bermuda-grass fields with a stand of tall pines on two sides and a steep hillside -- where fans sit and watch -- on another. Fans, many of them young boys and girls, lined up along the fence, getting autographs after practice. It's a scene straight out of football's past."

RICHARDSON BUILDING

THE RICHARDSON BUILDING

The home of the Wofford College Athletic Department is the Richardson Physical Activities Building. The facility includes offices for the administration, football, basketball and other sports on the second floor. Also included on the second floor is an aerobic dance room and weight room with machine and free weights along with a variety of cardio machines. Locker rooms for football, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's soccer and a training room are located on the first floor.

Wofford alumnus and Carolina Panthers owner Jerry Richardson made a $1 million donation in 2008 that was used for enhancing the Richardson Building. Numerous improvements were made in the facility to ensure that it is one of the most advanced athletic facilities in the nation.

Enhancements to the Richardson Building include new paint and carpet in the entire facility. The coaching and administration suites have been reconfigured to provide better reception areas. Football and men's basketball offices are outfitted with a new video system, including computers, editing software and large-screen monitors. This new system is similar to those being used by the NFL and NBA.

Inside the Harley Room, a new audio/video system was installed to handle the variety of events held in the room. New displays for academic honors, Southern Conference honors and the Hall of Fame are a part of the project. Additional murals and photos compliment the building and give it a fresh look.

In addition, the fitness facilities have been upgraded as well. Nearly $100,000 worth of new equipment was added to supplement the current selection of treadmills and elliptical machines. The cardio area features six flat panel televisions for viewing while working out. The fitness area is used by the entire student body at Wofford.

THE JOE E. TAYLOR CENTER

Wofford alumnus and South Carolina Secretary of Commerce Joe Taylor donated $1 million for the renovation of the Curry Building into the Joe E. Taylor Athletic Center. The Taylor Center features a 7,000 square foot weight room and offices for athletic department staff. The building, located next to Gibbs Stadium, was completed in June of 2009.

The weight room facility is equipped with a total of 24 racks with built-in pull-up bars and nearly 25,000 pounds of plates, dumbbells and olympic weights. The 24 racks are divided, with twelve used with platforms and twelve used with benches. Additional equipment includes four pulldown machines, four low row machines, five power runners, six glute/ham machines, two decline ab machines, a leg press and exercise bike. Also included is a large area of Mondo track flooring, which is used with the step-up boxes, plyo boxes and hurdle sets in speed development.

The Taylor Center also provides offices for administration and numerous sports, including men's and women's soccer, baseball, men's and women's golf, volleyball, men's and women's tennis and cross country and track and field. A conference room and several work areas give the coaching staff much needed space.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Wofford College Strength and Conditioning Department embraces the mission of both the college and athletic department. The mission of our program is to foster a positive, safe, challenging, and training environment. Our approach allows coaches, athletic trainers, and athletes to work together towards developing an athlete's full physical and mental potential.

A focal point of our training programs will be to not spend too much time training one specific aspect of development, but to train with balance. We will be hitting all areas, not neglecting another to prevent injury. Our coaches will inspire the athletes to be consistent, disciplined, and to put forth a great effort every day; never allowing their feelings to affect their performance.

THE PHILOSOPHY

The Strength and Conditioning Program consists of a year-round training philosophy designed to improve all aspects of physical and mental development of each athlete. The training cycles consist of different phases, all of which follow sound fundamental training principle and periodization ranging from low to high intensity and high to low volume. These are all encompassing sport specific macrocycles, mesocycles, and microcycles, which will allow each athlete the best opportunity for reaching maximum genetic potential.

GOAL

The goal is to improve the strength, speed, agility, balance, and coordination of the athletes. We will further develop proprioception, kinesthetic awareness, eye-hand and eye-foot coordination. We will be focusing on injury prevention, flexibility, and overall power of the athletes trained under the direction of the strength and conditioning department. This will enable each athlete to have the skills and tools necessary to achieve success.

Amy Kiah enters her 14th season as the head women's soccer coach at Wofford in 2012. Her tenure is the second longest among the Terrier head coaches, following only football's Mike Ayers. Including one year as an assistant coach, this season marks Kiah's 15th total campaign on the Wofford sidelines.

The 2011 campaign saw the Terriers post a 8-7-2 record, the squad's best season since 2004 when Coach Kiah's team went 8-8-1 on the year. The 2012 squad returns a large number of experienced players and Kiah has added nine talented newcomers to add to a promising 2012-13 season.

Coach Kiah's 2010 team recorded seven wins and captured a berth to the Southern Conference playoffs. The team went 7-8-4 overall, posting the most wins since the 2007 season when the Terriers finished 7-11-2.

In the 2010 offseason, Coach Kiah pushed for her student-athletes to be involved in the Spartanburg community. She challenged each academic class to create new opportunities for the team to volunteer their time with organizations amongst the community. The rising seniors raised money by signing the team up for a "Kick it for Cancer" tournament which helped raise money for the Gibbs Cancer Center located in Spartanburg, South Carolina. The rising juniors signed the team up for a Habitat for Humanity house and went to a site just down the road from Wofford College and helped build a house. The rising sophomores involved the team in the Miracle Baseball League, which is an organization that brings together special needs children of all ages in the area and enables them to play baseball. Coach Kiah looks to make the off-season community service an annual tradition for her upcoming teams.

Kiah became the first Wofford women's soccer coach to eclipse the 50-win plateau when the Terriers earned a 1-0 home victory against eventual Southern Conference Tournament champion Western Carolina Oct. 2, 2005.

With the Terriers' 4-0 win over Canisius Sept. 5, 2003, she became the program's all-time winningest head coach and enters this season with a career tally of 88, eclipsing the mark of 35 by Josef Lorenz (1995-98). Wofford's first-ever coach was Dr. Jhon Akers, who compiled 10 wins after starting the team in 1994.

Kiah arrived in Spartanburg in 1997 as an assistant coach for Lorenz. She took over the reigns of the program in the fall of 1999 and led the Terriers to a school-record 13 victories in her first year. Under her direction, Wofford has remained competitive in the Southern Conference, advancing to the league tournament on numerous occasions.

She coached another All-Southern Conference honoree in graduated senior Jessica Connett following the 2006 campaign. Connett, also a Phi Beta Kappa inductee, became the seventh all-league choice under Kiah out of the nine total Wofford has produced since joining the league in 1997.

The Terriers were also one of four Wofford athletic teams in 2006 to receive initial Academic Progress Report (APR) recognition from the NCAA for outstanding academic achievement.

Kiah had the honor of being on the sidelines for the Terriers' double-overtime 2-1 triumph at The Citadel Oct. 6, 2006, which marked the 100th overall victory in the history of the program.

A native of Atlanta, Ga., she attended North Carolina and played for legendary head coach Anson Dorrance. At Chapel Hill, she was a member of the team that captured three consecutive national titles from 1992-94. On the 1992 and '93 teams, she was a key reserve at forward and was teammates with U.S. National Team and future World Cup and Olympic champions Mia Hamm, Kristine Lilly and Tisha Venturini.

After redshirting the 1994 campaign, Kiah transferred to the College of Charleston and garnered 1995 first-team All-Trans America Athletic Conference honors.

Kiah also has seen time on the semi pro level by playing with the Charlotte Speed of the W-League. As a member of the Speed, she topped the team in goals and was among the squad's leaders in assists as well.

She sent the 2003 top Terrier point producer, Jaime Cutts, to the W-League where Cutts was a member of the Carolina Dynamo.

While still living in Atlanta, Kiah was a member of the Blackburn United U-19 club team which captured the 1992 Georgia state championship.

She is also a mainstay at a variety of summer camps throughout the Southeast, including the North Carolina Girls' Soccer Camp and the Ralph Lundy Soccer Academy in Charleston, S.C.

A 1999 graduate of Converse College, she is married to Wofford director of athletic facilities Andy Kiah. The couple has two daughters, Kayleigh, born in 2004, and Milkenna, who was born in 2010. They live in Spartanburg with their labrador retriever Champ.

We ask all who are associated with the institutions athletics programs to help the College protect the spirit of competition, the athletics eligibility of our student-athletes and the reputation of the College by adhering to the rules and regulations of the NCAA and by contacting the Compliance Office or the NCAA with all questions. If you have any questions about NCAA rules, please contact Elizabeth Rabb at (864) 597-4090, the Wofford website at woffordterriers.com and click on 'Compliance,' or the NCAA at www.ncaa.org.

What is a Representative of Athletics Interests (Booster/Donor)?

All alumni, friends, and employees of the College are categorized as 'representatives of athletics interest.' The NCAA stipulates that once an individual has been identified as a 'representative' or "booster/donor" he/she retains this status forever even if the individual is no longer associated with the athletics program. Furthermore the NCAA states that it is possible for a person to be a representative of more than one institution at the same time. A representative of athletics interest may not:

- Contact a prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an effort to evaluate a prospect

THE TERRIER SCULPTURE

A sculpture of a Terrier was unveiled on March 25, 2008 outside of the Student Life Building as a gift to Wofford College from the Class of 1956. The following is the text of an address given by Talmage Boyd Skinner, Jr., 1956, Chaplain Emeritus of Wofford College on the dedication.

The mascot of a college should, in large measure, represent the character of the place. In this Palmetto State, we are surrounded by a bevy of mascots. There are Gamecocks and Tigers, Bulldogs and a Rooster named Chanticleer, Indians, Paladins, Cougars, Valkyries, and one school has a sock for an ensign. There are Trojans, Pioneers, and Spartans, and various Cats and feathered creatures. In all the land, only two other schools are Terriers. Some will laugh when we affirm that we are the only true Terriers. Some chuckle when we are audacious enough to claim to be unique and even superior in so many aspects of being a college. The most arrogant of us will admit that there are many good colleges. We have even tried to copy some. I have always been a bit uncomfortable when we talk of another school being a – “flagship” that we need to emulate. Hey! We ARE the flagship! Forgive the pride of some old guys who have loved this little school for over half a century. Yes, we did not come to Wofford just to purchase an education; we joined Wofford. We were adopted into the family with a bond that cannot be broken. Many colleges claim to be family. We truly are.

Ours is a bond of shared experience hammered out on the playing fields against foes our size and those with more students than we have living alumni. It does not stop with athletics. The term “student athlete” has authenticity at Wofford. The bond is from a shared academic experience that is not content just to pass on so-called facts, but prepares students to think and to continue to grow. The “proof of the pudding” is in the doctors, lawyers, college presidents and professors, teachers, coaches, leaders in business and service – even in the ministry of the Church. A bond is created in the experience of the arts – the theater program, choral music, strings. One thing we lack – a band – not just the band class that plays well once or twice a year, but a BAND for spirit and musical experience. A bond is created through service programs and the physical arts witnessed by so many exhibitions on campus. Not the least is a religious life program that is open and tolerant, that walks with students seeking answers and helps them first learn to ask questions.

We, the Class of 1956 present this Terrier to our college as a symbol of Wofford Spirit in all aspects of this place like no other. We want to add to the tradition of this sacred ground. We want to remind the present Wofford that there is a past on which she stands and remind all of us that it all will be forgotten if we do not have a vision for the future. Our goal should be deeper than the usual quest for reputation, wealth, and prestige. Dr. Dunlap has always called Wofford a “kingdom of the just.” May that ever be our watchword. It may be a simple, unsophisticated phrase, but we are called not to be powerful, but good. As the prophet Micah said, “What does the Lord require of you but to do justice and to love kindness and to walk humbly with your God.”

The Class of 1956 proudly and humbly presents this physical representation of the Spirit of Wofford College and all those members of our family who ever lived or presently live on the “City’s Northern Border,” and all who are yet to dwell in the shadow of the Twin Towers.

Players on the all-time roster list must have played in at least one game throughout their career to be included. Others have been listed on rosters, but have not played. Current players in bold.

At the end of the last academic year, there were approximately 2,000 four-year colleges in the United States. Only 262 of them have the right to induct their graduates into Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's most prestigious liberal arts honor society. There are five independent Phi Beta Kappa colleges and universities in the Carolinas: Wofford, Davidson, Duke, Furman and Wake Forest.

Founded at the College of William and Mary in December 1776, Phi Beta Kappa was the first of the Greek letter fraternities and adopted such rituals as the badge, the secret oath, and the special handclasp from the various secret societies of the day.

Phi Beta Kappa, however, was also devoted to the principles of "friendship, morality, and literature (or learning)," and these characteristics gradually attained the greatest emphasis. John Quincy Adams, Edward Everett and Joseph Story, members of the Harvard chapter, are credited with making the fraternity a public literary and honor society for undergraduates in the 1830's. Women were first admitted to Phi Beta Kappa in 1875 at the University of Vermont.

Only two chapters of Phi Beta Kappa existed in the Southeast before 1900, but gradually the historic state universities and the most outstanding private colleges began to secure chapters. The process of earning a charter often takes many years and standards are very high. Final approval comes by vote of all the chapters at the triennial meetings of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa.

Wofford received its chapter at the 1940 triennial meeting, bringing to fruition more than ten years of work by three Phi Beta Kappa members who were then serving on the faculty: President Henry Nelson Snyder, Dr. David Duncan Wallace, class of 1894, and Dr. John West Harris '16, a brash and brilliant young English professor not afraid to campaign vigorously in the conviction that his alma mater deserved membership. (Dr. Harris later founded the National Beta Club, which still has its headquarters in Spartanburg).

With about 350,000 members across the country, Phi Beta Kappa today sponsors numerous programs to encourage scholarship and learning, including the Phi Beta Kappa Book Awards and the visiting scholar, academic fellowship and leadership programs.

For these reasons, Phi Beta Kappa Day at Wofford has institutional significance, as well as being especially memorable for the new members, each of whom will receive the traditional Phi Beta Kappa watch key or pin.

The Southern Conference, which began its 92nd season of intercollegiate competition in 2012, is a national leader in emphasizing the development of the student-athlete and in helping to build lifelong leaders and role models.

The Southern Conference has been on the forefront of innovation and originality in developing creative solutions to address issues facing intercollegiate athletics. From establishing the first conference basketball tournament (1921), tackling the issue of freshmen eligibility (1922), developing women's championships (1984), to becoming the first conference to install the three-point goal in basketball (1980), the Southern Conference has been a pioneer.

The Southern Conference is the nation's fifth-oldest NCAA Division I collegiate athletic association. Only the Big Ten (1896), the Missouri Valley (1907), the Pacific 10 (1915) and the Southwestern Athletic (1920) conferences are older in terms of origination.

Academic excellence has been a major part of the Southern Conference's tradition. Hundreds of Southern Conference student-athletes have been recognized on Capital One Academic All-America and all-district teams. A total of 19 Rhodes Scholarship winners have been selected from conference institutions.

The Conference currently consists of 12 members in five states throughout the Southeast and sponsors 19 varsity sports and championships that produce participants for NCAA Division I Championships.

The Southern Conference offices are located in the historic Beaumont Mill in Spartanburg, S.C. A textile mill that was in operation from 1880 until 1999, Beaumont Mill was renovated in 2004 and offers the league meeting areas and offices as well as a library for storage of historical documents.

MEMBERSHIP HISTORY

On Feb. 25, 1921, representatives from 14 of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association's (SIAA) 30 members met at Atlanta's Piedmont Hotel to establish the Southern Intercollegiate Conference. On hand at the inaugural meeting were officials from Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), Clemson, Georgia, Georgia School of Technology (Georgia Tech), Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi A&M (Mississippi State), North Carolina, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute (Virginia Tech) and Washington & Lee.

Dr. S.V. Sanford of Georgia was chosen as acting chairman and N.W. Dougherty of Tennessee was named secretary. The decision to form a new athletic conference was motivated by the desire to have a workable number of conference games for each league member. With 30 schools in the SIAA by the early 1920s, it was impossible to play every school at least once during the regular season and many schools went several years between playing some conference members. In addition, in 1920, the SIAA voted down proposed rules that an athlete must be in a college a year before playing on its teams and refused to abolish a rule permitting athletes to play summer baseball for money.

Play began in the fall of 1921 and a year later, six more schools joined the fledgling league including Tulane (which had attended the inaugural meeting but had elected not to join), Florida, Louisiana (LSU), Mississippi, South Carolina and Vanderbilt. VMI joined in 1925 and Duke was added in 1929.

By the 1930s, membership in the Southern Conference had reached 23 schools. C.P. "Sally" Miles of Virginia Tech, president of the Southern Conference, called the annual league meeting to order on Dec. 9, 1932 at the Farragut Hotel in Knoxville, Tenn. Georgia's Dr. Sanford announced that 13 institutions west and south of the Appalachian Mountains were reorganizing as the Southeastern Conference. Members of the new league included Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Florida, Georgia, Georgia School of Technology, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Mississippi A&M, University of the South, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

According to the minutes of the meeting, Dr. Sanford stated that the division was made along geographical lines. Florida's Dr. J.J. Tigert, acting as spokesman for the withdrawing group, regretted the move but believed it was necessary as the Southern Conference had grown too large. The resignations were accepted and the withdrawing schools formed the new league which began play in 1932.

The Southern Conference office is located in the refurbished Beaumont Mill in Spartanburg, less than a mile from the Wofford campus.

The Southern Conference continued with membership of 10 institutions including Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina, Virginia, VMI, Virginia Tech and Washington & Lee.

The second major shift occurred some 20 years later. By 1952, the Southern Conference included 17 colleges and universities. Another split occurred when seven schools including Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest departed to form the Atlantic Coast Conference which began play in 1953. The revamped Southern Conference included members The Citadel, Davidson, Furman, George Washington, Richmond, VMI, Virginia Tech, Washington & Lee, West Virginia and William & Mary.

Today, the league continues to thrive with a membership that includes 12 institutions and a footprint that spans five states: Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and Georgia. Current league members are Appalachian State, College of Charleston, The Citadel, Davidson, Elon, Furman, Georgia Southern, UNC Greensboro, Samford, Chattanooga, Western Carolina and Wofford.

The Southern Conference declares champions in 10 men's sports - football, soccer, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, baseball, tennis and golf - and nine women's sports - soccer, volleyball, cross country, basketball, indoor track and field, outdoor track & field, tennis, golf and softball.

Wofford won the 2003, 2007 and 2010 SoCon Football Championships.

CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY

The first Southern Conference Championship was the league basketball tournament held in Atlanta in 1922. The North Carolina Tar Heels won the tournament to become the first recognized league champion in any sport. The Southern Conference Tournament remains the oldest of its kind in college basketball.

Commissioner Germann spearheaded the Southern Conference's expansion to include women's athletics during the 1983-84 season. That year, league championships were held in volleyball, basketball and tennis. Cross country joined the mix in 1985 and the league began holding indoor and outdoor track championships in 1988. Most recently, the conference instituted golf and softball championships in the spring of 1994 and added soccer in the fall of 1994.

The Germann Cup, named in honor of the former commissioner, annually recognizes the top women's athletics programs in the conference. From its humble beginnings, women's athletics have become an integral part of the Southern Conference and its success.

Wofford won the 2009 Men's Soccer Regular Season and Tournament Championships.
